The dam on the Blindman has gone out, and Lacombe's Water-power plant is a thing of the past. At no time was there sufficient water for the town's needs, and the location of the dam was such that a permanent structure was an impossibility. The new engine and generator at the town's steam plant has been installed and it is hoped that it will now be possible to put the light department on a paying basis.

The farmers are all busy with their spring work, and from the look of the great fields in all directions, this crop will be the largest we have ever had through Central Alberta. Seeding is well under way, and in some places the grain is above the ground. One feature of the progress of the Alberta farmer, is the number of tractors put in action this spring. From Lacombe alone some twenty-two tractors were taken out, and more are to follow.

Editor—Western Globe

Sir: Will you kindly allow me a little of your valuable space to explain a matter which might be otherwise misunderstood. Arrangements have been progressing for the holding of campaigns by Salvation Army and the Y. M. C. A. while in Lacombe are unfortunately arranged to take place at practically the same time. On behalf of the Y. M. C. A. I wish to make it plain that there is in no way any rivalry or friction between the Y. M. C. A. and the Salvation Army. Our relations are and have been most cordial and we have always co-operated in our work overseas and at home. Each has a most important work to do in its own sphere and each is in urgent need of funds to carry out its work. I sincerely hope the generous people of the Lacombe District will give both the Army and the Y. M. C. A. the support which both need the money and are both using all we get to the best advantage. On behalf of the Y. M. C. A. I wish to thank the people of this town and district for their handsome contributions last year. O. D. Austin, organizer for Y. M. C. A.

CLIVE NEWS

Mr. Wilmer Grose and Miss Edna Walters were married at Vancouver, April 19th, at the latter's sister's home. After a week's visit with friends and relatives they returned to Clive where they will reside. The happy couple were met by many friends at Clive, among them, the brides sister, Mrs. E. Longstreet who carried them off to her home where lunch was waiting. About 7 p.m. cars began to assemble at Mrs. Longstreet's and a very pleasant evening was spent and much time was given to "advising" the newly wedded pair how best to sail over life's matrimonial sea, smoothly. After lunch, many old time songs were sung, and towards morning the friends departed, leaving many wishes for Mr. and Mrs. W. Grose. Mrs. Grose was born at Picton Ontario where she graduated from High School and after matriculation took a teacher's training. After completing three years, she graduated from Picton Business College and came west where she has been in the employ of Riley Bros. of Calgary until in January 1919 where her health required a change and she proceeded to the Coast. We all wish Mr. and Mrs. Grose much happiness and are overjoyed to welcome them in our midst.

Course for Soldiers

Arrangements have been completed for the summer courses for returned soldiers. This summer session will open at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, on May 19 next, and will continue until September 12th. The purpose of this summer school is to furnish assistance to men whose studies have been interrupted by the war that too much time may be lost in getting into regular classes again. In some cases men who had left school before enlisting are anxious to resume their studies. Provisions will be made for these men also. Returned men everywhere are invited to take advantage of this school.

The school will be so organized to give as far as possible individual instruction. Thus a man may enter with any attainment and make as rapid progress as he is capable of. Any returned man who is interested in improving his education with the idea of continuing in some institution in the fall should write the Department of Education, Edmonton, at once. Returned men only will be admitted to these courses. The University Dormitories and boarding facilities will be available for men who may attend. A rare privilege to that privilege during the regular session will be allowed, namely thirty dollars per month for both room and board.

Department of Education will furnish tuition in these courses free. The session will close in time for those qualified to enter Normal School or proceed with University work. All likely to attend should advise the Department at once that all courses required may be included in the plans.

Peace Treaty Will Be Ready

By Week End

Paris, April 27—It was stated in French circles tonight that the peace conference would be ready to present the peace treaty to the Germans on Friday or Saturday of this week. The drafting committee worked throughout the entire day today while the members of the Council of Three were taking a respite from conference work.

The French idea is that the text of the treaty is nearly completed. The military and naval sections have been finished, with the exception of the situation as regards the Kiel Canal and some secondary points.

Aside from the disposition of Kiau-Chau, which some of the delegates are confident will be settled tomorrow, there remains to be settled conclusively, questions of the customs regime in the Duchy of Luxembourg, the disposition of the German cable lines and the repatriation of German prisoners of war. Report of the special commission on the latter question is expected tomorrow.

It was said tonight that all the other problems had been solved and drafted into the articles of the treaty, including the control of the west bank of the Rhine.

Finish The Job—Pay The Bill

This is our government. We select the men who make the laws. Therefore we are responsible. Our citizenship has its obligations no less than its opportunities.

Not only was it necessary for each one of us to bend every energy to win the war, it is now the duty of each one of us to finish the job and pay the bill.

There are only two ways to pay it. One is in taxes, the other by purchasing Thrift and War Savings Stamps. In the latter case we get a short term, interest bearing bond of the government with all the property in this country, your property and my property behind it. No other bond is as good as other bonds is as safe, and it is our duty to buy them.

We are careful to protect our credit by meeting our obligations at the bank. Are we fully as careful to meet our credit as citizens? To-day that credit is at stake. If we do not keep faith, if we do not back our government, if we do not pay the cost of the peace which came sooner than anybody expected, then we are slackers and have no right to enjoy the blessings of a free free country.

Now what is a War Savings Stamp? It is more than the promise of Canada to pay a certain fixed sum of money and a certain fixed rate of interest at a certain definite time. It is our pledge to civilization, to Christianity, that we shall meet our great responsibilities growing out of the war. It represents honor, truth, freedom, justice, equality under the law, and the pursuit of happiness. And it represents the fact that as truly as those brave boys of ours, those human Victory Bonds, who went over the sea with the spirit of crusaders to fight for those principles.

Are you willing to do your duty? Are you worth fighting for? Do you value your citizenship? Then finish the job, pay the bill, and be truly thankful for liberty and peace.

CLIVE NEWS
Life is Real Life in Earnest.
But the Great is not its Goal.
Dust Thou art to Dust returneth.
Was not spoken of the soul.
Let us forget; may we not pause amidst the strain of war aftermath and epidemic terror and ask ourselves—What of it all, why is it? Why all the anguish of body and soul? Those of us whose threshold has escaped the blood stain of war or the source of pestilence lost ourselves when making approach to give sympathy. Why this seething restlessness among peoples, communities and nations? The horrors of war have taken from our community those whose names appear on the honor roll. The gallant sons, largely of free will bled and stained the fields of France and Flanders that we who remain to carry on might have real life and have this life abundantly. These boys freely gave unstinted service, standing shoulder to shoulder a cemented brotherhood in one determined struggle to overthrow, forever, the dominant spirit of greed, lust and passion. Was ever service more highly rendered and how do we measure up in the debt we owe those who gave their lives for us? But the mill stones grind on. The Epidemic has taken its awful toll of lives in the persons of Colin Johnson, Mrs. Ida Holmes (wife of H. E. Holmes) Walter Matthews, John Wickenburg, and Carl Hecht all residents of Clive and community. Why all this destruction of human life, this gloominess? Hand said No. Many striving to save them, but a stronger door of death still remain to serve. Why was it that Colin Johnson, Walter Matthews and John Wickenburg were required to surrender their young and promising lives. These men were young and vigorous of sterling character and to know more of them meant to know more of what constitutes true citizenship. Had we only known we might have said more kind words and flowers cannot call back the mortal. These citizens are gone and the responsibility deepened.
"The New Day is Dawning."
The day of Service; How war and disease have made plain the necessity for service. A service of Body, heart and soul that seeks no compensation. This is the true spirit of Brotherhood. It may be necessary for us to retrace our faltering steps to get the right start from the Divinely appointed Place but this possible sacrifice will be given by the unseen hand guiding the destiny of man.
But why this Service? War and Plague have been the training school in which we might be taught the necessity and fitted for application of such service that will result in giving the greatest good to the greatest number.
If the world is to be made safe for Democracy the true spirit of Brotherhood and Service must be evidenced in our homes and community life. Petty Jealousies and seat disturbances must be brushed aside before our citizenship, truly developed, will be made effective.
For such true citizens might we offer this fitting epitaph:
Long may the native home look for thy to come.
Few may she ever had more deserving Trust.
Fewer from thoughts unjust, than these hearts
In the dust at Rest Forever.

It is not going to be swayed by selfish and petty jealousies of other sections.
We have never agreed with the kind of opposition that seeks merely to criticize for the sake of criticism. Under this heading, there seem to come the criticisms visited on Hon. George P. Smith, Minister of Education, with reference to his scheme for aiding in the building of rural residences, with ten acres of ground for the teachers, likewise, against his plan of encouraging the building of two room rural schools to supersede to some extent the consolidated school districts which were the hobby of the former Minister of Education, Hon. J. R. Boyle, now the attorney general. It has been urged by the legislature that Mr. Smith's schemes show no definite fixed policy for rural educational plans, that he is exhibiting a tendency to change from one scheme to another, and that there is no assurance that he will not come back the next session with some new educational scheme.
Such criticism is not well founded. Systems of education all over the world are largely in a state of flux today. No man can say what the trend of education is going to be in the next decade, or even the manner of schools. For this reason a youthful province such as Alberta can not make a mistake in experiments, especially if they are along the line of bringing more educational facilities to the rural districts. Various schemes may be tried and discarded and some may be lost, but it is worth the while to make the trial. Calgary Herald.

The Death Penalty
(Morning Bulletin)
Joseph Campbell was hanged on Wednesday morning in Fort Saskatchewan jail yard for the double murder of Sam Zappier and Constable Beavers. It is a fearful thing to destroy human life. But the responsibility of protecting the ordinary citizen from unjust aggression rests upon organized society—it is indeed the greatest reason for the organization of society into fixed forms of government. There are varying opinions as to what is the best course by which to protect society against the crime of murder. From time immemorial the weight of opinion has been that for such protection murder should be punishable by death. It is true there are hangings for murder and yet other murders are committed. There are instances in which the death penalty is not a deterrent. But it is safe to say that if the death penalty will not deter nothing else will. Fear of death is a natural instinct of the human mind. It is necessary for the preservation of the race. It is extreme and overpowering, and the lower the mentality of the person the more strong the fear. There are those whom the fear of death restrains when nothing else will.
But the certainty of punishment is an even greater deterrent from crime than its severity. It is a fact that in recent years in Alberta there have been instances of which the crime of murder has not brought punishment. In some cases the culprit has not been brought home sufficiently to warrant arrest, and in others, men arrested and tried have escaped through faulty presentation of the case against them through sympathetic juries or through the clemency of the crown. The more of such cases there are, the more there are likely to be. Each one is an encouragement to the lawless minded to work their will for revenge or gain, or in gratification of some other evil intent, upon their fellows.
Hanging for murder is not an act of revenge or of mere cruelty in taking away a human life. It is for the protection of society at large, and of the individual in particular. In the case of the unfortunate man who has just suffered the extreme penalty, he committed one murder while committing robbery, and second in an effort to escape. The fact that he did not escape either the officers of the law or its enforcement is not a reason for all law-abiding members of the community.

Progressive Policy
Whatever criticism may have been visited upon the provincial government for niggardliness in the past in providing educational facilities, it did not lie with any force against the estimates for 1919. The government, as set forth in Edmonton dispatches, proposes to spend a total of $1,574,093 for educational purposes this year out of current income and an additional $10,000 in advances to school districts out of capital.
This does not include either the $200,000 to be expended this year in obtaining a site and beginning work on the new Calgary Institute of Technology and Art. It does include $9,040 for carrying on the work this year of the Institute of Technology and Art, which gives evidence of the sincerity of Premier Chas. Stewart's promise that the work of that greatly needed institution will go right ahead.
In Premier Stewart this institution has a friend who, apparently

It is not going to be swayed by selfish and petty jealousies of other sections.

Sid Learns More About The Farm And Writes To Bill

The Crops are Coming Up and Sid Tells Bill about it.

Letters from a boy who went from the slums of a city to work on a farm, to his friend Bill.

Dear Bill:

The crops are beginning to come up now, you can see life shoots sticking up all over but it is not dangerous as they do not shoot a tall, it is just a name that they give to the young grain, I don't know why they call them shoots, I think I will ask my farmer. He says that in a field while they will be shoots sticking up, I said to him that they called kattel and hoarses stood and that I did not know how kattel could stick up in a field. I shure do get puzzled at sum of the farm names. The other day the farmer told me to turn the kows into a feed, and I ast him if he thot I was a magichun, he only laft at that. The other day we went to lanture for prut, it is sumpon like a movin piccher show only the picchers don't move a tall, but they is a gicks that tells us all about it. Mary an i set togther at the lcter, an i like Mary an i think she likes me, for she said the other day that she wist i wood stay on the farm all ov the time i think i will. The other day the farmer sed i wood work for him next year, i think i will. He ses that they is a pick a nick here ever sumer an that i kan ask you up to it if i wanta. Returned Men Making Entry For Homesteads

Edmonton, April 4.—That the Dominion land office is doing bigger business now than it has done for years past is the information given out by officials. Hundreds of enquiries are being made every day and land is being taken with surprising speed in every district under the control of local authorities.

Applications from returned soldiers predominate (the business and Veterans are taking land and moving from the city to their new holdings with the least delay. Many of them are taking land to the limit of the provisions of the Soldier's Settlement act, which gives them 320 acres—160 acres as allowed for homestead rights and the additional 160 acres as provided by the grant to soldiers.

Most of them have inspected the land being taken up, either having looked over the prospective farms in company with returned men, or stayed with relatives and friends who have land in proximity to their locations.

The Central District W. C. T. U. convention will be held in Lacombe May 6th and 7th. There will be a number of delegates, good speakers and some interesting discussions. Mrs. L. McKinney, M.L.A., will give an address the first evening. People of the town and vicinity will do well to remember the dates and benefit by the opportunity. It will be held in Grace Methodist Church.

Private Houses Immune From Search Without Warrants

Edmonton, April 16.—Radical changes in provincial amendments to the Provincial Police Act were brought into the legislature Tuesday by Attorney General Boyle, which largely remove the sting in the first draft of proposed amendment. One of the new changes specifically exempts private dwelling houses from entry or search for liquor without a warrant from a police magistrate or justice of the peace. The previous amendment would have permitted the search of "private dwellings," as well as business and other places on the order of the commissioner of the police.

Another amendment eliminates the power which it was proposed to give provincial policemen "to detain and search any person whom he believes to be conducting an illicit traffic in liquor" and the power to "seize any liquor found on his person." This was included in a clause permitting policemen on their own authority to detain and search any transportation conveyances for liquor which still stands.

Mrs. L. C. McKinney (Non-Partisan), Clarendon, clashed with J. G. Turgeon (government), Ribstone when the latter, referring to some remarks of Mrs. McKinney concerning the possibility of information, conveyed by policemen to the commissioner being betrayed, said that it was a strange thing that magistrates, station agents, telegraph operators, policemen and other classes of people could not be trusted. There was something radically wrong either with the people or the law.

Mrs. McKinney denied that she had made any such general statements, but was referring to specific instances. Weir, Nanton, Mrs. McKinney's colleague, came to her defence with the somewhat sensational statement that a message sent just recently to a member of the house had been intercepted and recovered to another member for whom it was not intended; further, rooms had been searched and papers ransacked for some purpose which Mr. Weir did not state.

There was a lengthy wrangle over whether persons permanently residing at hotels came within the definition of residents of private dwellings. The attorney-general was inclined to believe they did, which satisfied objections raised by Capt. R. E. Campbell, Rocky Mountain, Col. Nelson Spenser, Medicine Hat, however, thought that whatever amendments asked by the attorney-general to aid in enforcement of the law should be permitted without question. If the law were not enforced, then criticisms of methods could be voiced next year.

Help the Y.M.C.A. Finish its Work For Soldiers

Help the "Y" Construct the Manhood that will Re-construct Canada

ALL the world now knows that the Red Triangle of the Y.M.C.A. was the "Sign of Friendship" to thousands of your brothers, sons, nephews, cousins and neighbours' boys in the last four and a half years. Wherever the Canadian Soldiers went, the "Good old 'Y'" went too. And now it is coming back home with them!

For the support which has made possible the war work of the Y.M.C.A. we thank you. Your money has been well expended. We have rendered full account.

We ask now your continued sympathy and support for Red Triangle Service for our Soldiers during demobilization, and for Y.M.C.A. work for Canada generally during the Reconstruction period. The Annual Red Triangle campaign will be held throughout Canada May 5th to 9th, 1919. The objective is $1,100,000.

The Y.M.C.A. will keep its chain of service unbroken till the end.

For Our Men Returning

For the soldiers and their dependents, returning from Overseas, we have provided as follows:—

1. A Red Triangle man on board every ship when it leaves Great Britain, with a full equipment of games, gramophones and records, magic lantern, literature and writing materials. Where possible, also a piano or an organ. Lectures, concerts, singing songs, instruction re Government repatriation plans, and Sunday Services.

2. Red Triangle comforts and facilities for the men on arrival at Halifax, St. John, Quebec and Montreal, including coffee stalls, with free drinks, free cabbies, cigarettes, candies, etc.

3. Red Triangle men on every troop train to provide regularly free drinks, cabbies and cigarettes, organize games and sing songs, and furnish information.

4. Red Triangle free canteen service, information bureau, etc., at each of the 22 Dispersal centres in Canada.

5. Red Triangle Clubs in the principal cities of Canada in the shape of large Y.M.C.A. hostels to furnish bed and board at low rates and to be a rendezvous for soldiers.

6. Seventy-five Secretaries to superintend Red Triangle service in Military Hospitals, Camps and Barracks throughout Canada.

7. Tickets entitling soldiers to full Y.M.C.A. privileges for six months at any local Y.M.C.A. furnished.

In addition to our work for the returning soldiers, we have to maintain the Red Triangle service to the full for the soldiers in Siberia, as well as the work of special secretaries in Northern Russia, Palestine and Poland.

For Canada's Manhood

The Reconstruction program of the Y.M.C.A. includes the following vitally important developments:—

1. An increased service to 300,000 teenage boys in the Dominion—the development of Canadian Standard Efficiency training; Bible Study groups; summer camps; conferences; service for High School boys, for working boys, in the towns and cities; for boys on the farm and for boys everywhere, who have lacked opportunity for mental, moral, physical or social development.

2. Inauguration of Y.M.C.A. work in the country, and the smaller towns and villages lacking Association buildings and equipment, on a plan of county organizations. This will include the establishment of Red Triangle centres for social, recreational and educational work among boys and men, in co-operation with the churches.

3. The promotion of Y.M.C.A. work among Canada's army of workers in industrial plants, both in Y.M.C.A. buildings and in the factory buildings, organizing the industrial workers of our cities by meetings, entertainments, games and sports.

4. The establishment of the Red Triangle in isolated districts where lumbermen, miners and other workers hold the front trenches of industry.

5. Besides these main fields of increased activity for 1919, we have to provide for enlarged work among railway men, college students and for our campaign to encourage physical and sex education. Under all our work we place the fundamental foundation of manly Christianity.

For their sake also be generous when you make your contribution.

FOR the sake of our victorious soldiers and their dependents, and the happiness of their home-coming; for the sake of our future citizens, our teenage boys; for the sake of rural life in Canada; for the sake of the social betterment of the toilers in factory and workshop; for the sake of lonely men and boys in our mines and forests; for the sake of Christian Society and Canadian manhood—we appeal to you. Why should you go through life with half sight, or poor vision? The other day I fitted a man with glasses who had gone through life so near sighted that he could not recognize a friend across the street. This man had never known the joy of clear vision, and it was a pleasure to see his delight when he viewed distant objects for the first time.

Then there is a person who has a headache after reading for a short time. It is more painful that the near sighted condition, but yields equally when proper glasses are worn. If you are having trouble with your eyes, have them tested.

Campbell Paid Penalty For

Double Murder on Scaffold Joseph Campbell, convicted of the murder of Sam Zappier, and Constable Frank Beavers in Edmonton last fall, fulfilled the law's demands and expiated his double crime when he was hanged at the provincial jail, Fort Saskatchewan, at an early hour Wednesday morning.

At sunrise, as is the custom of such occasions, procession of convict, prison and government officials started from the cells for the scaffold.

Campbell, though very pale and greatly emaciated, was able to walk to the place of execution, showing no signs of fear, he marched erect between the two guards and instantly obeyed every sign of those in command and without a movement of the lips or sign of emotion, took his position on the scaffold.

Kissing the cross in the hands of Father Plus O.M.I. and while his spiritual advisor said a prayer, the executioner placed the black hood upon his head and almost immediately the little black flag was run up the pole, indicating that life had gone out instantly.

After viewing the body, the jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide. Mrs. Turner and Henry were in attendance, and Dr. Mooney acted as coroner.

Father Plus who was with Campbell during his death watch, administered the last rites of the church and the body was, by order of the government placed in the hands of the Franciscans for burial.

Fake Grain Varieties

(Experimental Farm Notes)

Each year many farmers are the victims of plausible agents who are selling so called new varieties.

Making extravagant claims they charge a corresponding price and only too often the farmer who naturally desires more productive varieties if obtainable, pays an exorbitant price for a supposedly new and profitable sort, which is either an old variety camouflaged with a new name or else a selection whose qualities are entirely unknown.

Being divisible into classes, these agents and their claims can be grouped conveniently as follows:

First—Those who take a high yielding, prolific variety such as banner or O.A.C. No. 72 oats, give it another name and introduce it as another variety.

Second—Those who are selling a variety that has been multiplied from a peculiar plant or from extraordinary heads found in the general crop. The producer thinking it a valuable variety, offers it for sale before its qualities are known.

Third—Those who are offering for sale to a few limited customers only, a wonderful variety that was produced by secret process of selection or else has been grown from a few seeds found in the tumbles of the ancient Pharaohs.

A fourth class might be made of those who sell a variety, for what it is, but make extravagant claims for its yielding ability. This is well illustrated by the Alaska or seven headed wheat.

The agent in the first case is a financial shark who is obtaining money by false pretences. He perhaps does the least harm of any beyond the confusion created in nomenclature of varieties and the money which he takes from the farmer.

In the second case the agent may be acting in the best of faith and with the conviction that his claims will be justified by the resulting crop. Perhaps, they will be, but the variety is one that have been introduced in this way and have been found worthless in comparative tests with standard varieties.

The third agent, though, is the real out and out grain dealer and should be liable to prosecution. The farmer who is deceived by his pretences almost deserves to pay the price of his credulity.

It is the right of any person who has multiplied out a selection of grain to sell it for what it is, and charge any price he sees fit. Against these well intentioned, legitimate transactions we have nothing to say beyond warning the farmer, that at the best he is only buying an old variety and that exceedingly few of these amateur selections are ever of value.

What is advisable is that in every case before buying variety seed, the farmer should consult the reports of his nearest experimental station. The remedy for the actual frauds that are perpetrated is in his hands. As he will buy the agents will sell, and the efforts put forth by cereal stations of Canada for the improvement of crops will continue to be partially frustrated.

Threatened To Kill P. Baker

On the charge of sending an anonymous letter, threatening to kill P. Baker, vice president of the U.F.A., M. S. Halwa, (Gledehurst, near Leduc, was remanded by W. E. Turner, J. P., at a preliminary hearing at Ponoka on Wednesday.

Considerable difficulty was experienced, gathering evidence, but this was eventually accomplished by Constable H. Byers, of the provincial police, residing at Red Deer. It appears that in May last year a meeting was held at Leduc to protest against the enlistment of young men between the ages of twenty and twenty-two under the Military Service Act. This was addressed by Mr. Baker, who advised those present not to do anything to hinder the government's action, pointing out the serious situation at the front as it then existed.

A short time afterwards, Mr. Baker received an anonymous letter "thanking him for his Leduc speech, which would be later repaid by bullets in his head."

A. Higginbotham, secretary of the U. F. A., was directed by the board of directors to hand the letter over to the police. The only clue that the latter had was the postmark on the envelope, but later developments directed suspicion to the accused.

In the meantime the accused has been remanded on bail.

Veteran Theatre

"The Wolves of the Rail" the feature at the Veteran on Wed. and Thursday of last week was beyond doubt the best picture seen in Lacombe for a long time. Bill Hart was the star, and the part he took was that of an outlaw, which part he played to perfection. The Veteran theatre management are showing nothing but the best productions obtainable, and the theatre is always warm and comfortable. They have a number of famous productions on order, and the announcement will be made later, on their arrival. Any public who the Veteran theatre advertizes as being a "good one" you may rest assured that is a good one.

Soviet Government

A good many people confuse the two Russian wars, soviet and Bolshevik. Because the Bolsheviks now control the soviet government of Russia that think that the Soviet Government must necessarily be Bolshevik. That is not true. The soviet is a political institution, the Bolsheviks form a political party; the difference between them is the same that exists between a legislature and the Liberals or the Conservatives who sit in it.

Soviet Government is a form of representative government in which the unit is not geographical but is here in Canada, the economic or occupational. The Soviet is virtually the executive committee of a labor union; the word means council.

The Soviets were, first heard of at the time of the abortive Russian revolution of 1905. After that rising was suppressed the soviets contrived to support an underground existence until the revolution in 1917. When the czarism was broken down, they were the most vital and best organized units left in Russian society. They seem also to be the kind of governmental instrument best suited to the Russian Temperament and comprehension for from the very first they have controlled the course of the revolution, and not even the abuses that the Bolsheviks have practiced through them have weakened the hold of system on the people.

The soviets may rest either on the trade or on the industry. In one case the members of each separate trade such as carpenters, steam fitters, soldiers, farmers, school teachers, doctors, and hotel carriers, would have a soviet of their own, and that soviet would have representatives in the governing soviet of the town or city. In the other case all the workers in a certain factory or office would have their own soviet, which would in turn send a representative to the local soviet. In both cases the soviet of the city sends its representative or representatives to the soviet of soviets at the national capital. The body, through the commissaries it chooses, rules the country. In Russia, both forms of organization have been practiced, but the tendency seems to be toward the second type.

Such a system as that is not undemocratic if all of the citizens are enrolled in some one or other of the electoral soviet, and of course it produces a different kind of governing body from any that we now have. The central soviet would not consist as parliament does of a great many lawyers and a few farmers and business men; it would be made up chiefly of farmers and artisans, with a small lot of professional and business men. Soviet government need not be administered with the cruelty or injustice and fanaticism that distinguishes the Bolshevik regime. But it would inevitably bring about the overthrow of all the political and legal machinery to which we are accustomed, it would probably tend to destroy the economic organization that is founded on private property, and it would lay the foundation for the merging of all classes and all nations into a single socialist state. Whether or not those results are possible, whether or not they are desirable if possible, they are the aim of those who advocate soviet government, and they would be likely to follow the successful practice of that kind of government.

The floating mine machine was sighted the officers said at 10.40 a.m. by Lieut.-Commander Harold Cunningham who was on the bridge, dead ahead of the transport, quick thinking and quick action was all that averted the collision.

A desperate whirl of the wheel sent the steamer past the mine with a margin of safety of ten yards.

The Y. P. S. met on Friday night when the debating committee put on a debate on the subject,

"Resolved that the platform exists a greater influence for good than the press." The affirmative was taken by J. M. Fawcett and Miss Hobbs, the negative by Miss Jean Miller and Blanche Hutton. The judges awarded the decision in favor of the affirmative.

Mrs. J. P. Miller and Miss Florence Miller rendered solos and Mr. C. A. Putland gave a short address. The society's minstrel trio appeared from behind the scenes and gave two very amusing songs. This famous aggregation consists of Messrs. Blaine Hutton, Joe Dameron, and Campbell Miller.

The next meeting will be in charge of the social committee. Everybody come.

Two weeks ago, the Y.P.S. appointed the executive to be a committee to discuss a summer program and present its recommendations. This they did on Friday night. Their recommendations were as follows.

1 That an effort be made to consolidate all the sports and summer activities under one central plan in which all the sports be given a definite place.

2 That if possible, a system of credits be worked out whereby everyone taking part would get credit for their success, and by keeping a record through the season, the champion could be named in the fall. It was suggested that it might be possible to arrange a field day in the fall as the closing item of the season.

3 That, to this end, the committees of the society suspend their program as carried on during the winter and each one become responsible for the organization and conduct of one game. This was intended to include tennis, basketball, water sports and if possible baseball.

4 That the officers and committees may be better fitted to carry out the different programs, it was divided into two sessions: Summer session—May 1st to Oct. 31st 31st. Winter Session—Nov. 1st to April 30th.

And that the officers be elected twice a year, at the first meeting in April and October, to take office one month later.

A special meeting was called for Saturday night for the election of officers. The following officers were elected for the summer session.

President, Mr. A. Morley Crawford. 1st Vice-President, Miss Florence Court. 2nd Vice-President—Miss Eva Williams.

3rd Vice-President—Mr. Caleb Morrison. 4th Vice-President, Miss Jean Miller.

Secretary Treasurer, Mr. Joe Dameron.

The W. M. S. held their annual meeting on Wednesday for the election of officers. There was a good attendance. The officers elected are, President, Mrs. J. E. Miller; Vice-President, Mrs. E. J. Nelson; Sec. Treas. Mrs. W. B. Crawford.

The treasurer reported Receipts: $58.98 And the Mission Circle $10.90 A Total of $69.88

The meeting enjoyed very much a letter from Miss Constance Ward of Red Deer, from Ichang, China.

The local W. M. S. is assisting in the support of Miss Ward. Excerpts from this letter may be of interest to others. "Miss Hall tells us that schools at two stations, Luchow and Pienhsin, have been closed for lack of teachers and workers. So you can understand how anxious we are to reach our stations, get settled and so be in a better position for language study. One grumbles the time spent over language study when face to face with the great need and immeasurable opportunities."

"Lately I have been wondering whether there are not young girls in the Red Deer district who are at liberty and are willing to give their lives in the Master's Service in China. China with its doors wide open and marvelous opportunities of giving the glad news to a great people. There is no worker available to open mission work for women and girls at Chungking. It is not lack of support, it is not lack of fields of service, it is the lack of laborers."

"Our Study hours are from 9 to 11 a.m. and 2 to 4 with the teachers. So far we have only two more as we all study in one room and of course aloud. Miss Foster, Miss McKee and I have one teacher, who tells us a word or a sentence which we repeat in unison. Then she asks us individually, and that is how we learn to speak in Chinese. Not a quiet method I can assure you. I have a new name—Chinese. It sounds something like Voo Chin Din, but it is written in English U Tsing Lin. The U is the surname and means five and the other part means green lotus.

Ichang is a busy port, as it is the terminus of the Winter steamers. There are customs officers, oil companies, a British Consul and agents of the steamship companies. There are three mission societies, Scotch Presbyterian, U. S. Anglican and Roman Catholics. Altogether there is a foreign population of about 75 people. These foreign people live outside the walls of the native city. They seem glad we are here and have been so kind and also entertained us several times. It must be lonesome for them in many ways.

It takes about an hour to walk across the native city so it must be nearly three miles. The streets are very narrow about room for five people to walk abreast and the houses so close. The country is hilly and dotted with tiny fields and farmsteads, which remind me of Canada and Alberta especially. Though they are not as clean as they might be, the people themselves are tidy. But lack of sanitation and prevalence of disease offers a wide field for service.

Another very interesting letter was read from Miss Louise Foster, also of Red Deer, who is studying with Miss Ward at Ichang.

"May I tell you this month of a little incident which I heard only today and which impressed me very deeply. In the same building with us but across the courtyard, lives a Chinese gentleman, Mr. Chen, with his wife and family. A few days ago Mr. Chen, who is quite a wealthy gentleman sent his daughter, a child of about 8 or 9 years, to the Mission school conducted by the Scottish ladies. They refused to take her because her feet were bound and it is against the rules to take a child with bound feet as a pupil.

When Mr. Chen's little girl was sent to school, the first day she would not unbend her feet. He would not unbend her feet. Then as he himself told the friend who repeated the story to us, he began to think of the foreign girls who lived across from him. He said, "I am going out day after day for walks and for tennis and promenading down in the courtyard on beautiful moonlight nights, going about on feet, that no doubt look large and him, which nevertheless have as no pain, while his wife sat in the house, or when she did go out hobbled painfully along. The result was he decided he would rather risk the risk of ridicule by his friends and have his little girl grow up in comfort to be a strong healthy woman. She is now attending school, her feet are being gradually unbound and no doubt she will in time become a follower of Jesus.

What impressed me so strongly was the realization of how good will use us when we least expect it. When we are simply doing the ordinary every day things, to help someone else or to directly win a soul for Him."

Mr. B. C. Moore was guest at the parsonage for the week end and spoke to the congregations at Rainy Creek and Bentley on Sunday.

The Bentley Local U. F. A. will meet on Saturday night in the Church Club room. Better plan to attend.

The officers of the Sunday School were appointed for the coming year on Sunday. At Rainy Creek Mr. E. J. Wyatt is Supt. Mr. Wm. Surratt as assistant and Mr. J. H. Stone as secretary.

There were about thirty out on Monday evening in the church to hear Mr. B. C. Moore, of Calgary, of the Educational staff of the United Grain Growers and the non-partisan league, give an address on "Solving of Farmers' problems." Mr. Moore went into social, educational and economic situation, showing how unfitted the present structure, was to serve the needs of the rural communities.

Unfortunately the storm came along just in time to prevent a good number of others from being present. Mr. E. J. Dameron acted as chairman of the meeting. The Atlas Lumber company has completed their lumber shed and the place begins to look like a place of business.

The Lockhart branch of the Alberta Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. L. Beddoes, on April 17th. Owing to spring work being in full swing the attendance was not as large as usual, although a very good meeting was held. After the reading of the minutes of previous meeting the resolutions of the Calgary convention of the W.I. were read and discussed. Members were asked to bring suggestions as to how the Lockhart A.W.I. could best serve their community. Four very good suggestions were made. 1 To form an egg and poultry circle. It was stated that to get better prices for their produce, the women could have it collected and sent direct to the consumer, thus cutting the middle man's profit, and it a better standard of goods on the market. 2 That teachers should supervise the children's recreation at school. 3 That if there are more chances to develop character, self reliability, health and leadership in play, in the school room, the play should be supervised. 4 That for a small sum of money, school children could be served hot cocoa, or soup through the winter months, and as this would be beneficial to children, as well as practical lessons in cooking for the older girls, it was thought very good. 4 That a public park should be built, in which a wicker ware fenced playground should be made for the small children. The playground should be shaded and should have several large sand boxes. For the older children there should be swings and teeters, games of tennis, croquet, and basket ball should be provided for the adults. A platform should be built for programs or open air church services. It was decided also that a monthly report be sent to the Editor of the Bentley News to be published in the Western Globe. The meeting was then adjourned to meet with Mr. Arthur Jaffrey on Thursday May 15. When the next suggestion will be decided upon and ways and means of carrying it out. All members are especially requested to attend.

Men Who Do Not Grow Up

There are a good many such men in the world, and although they are often at certain stages of their life attractive persons to meet, they always prove disappointing as friends and in the end a nuisance or a burden to their families. They have generally not had to work hard for a living, they have been spoiled as children in their early years; fastidiousness and egotism have been promoted in them by unwise indulgent parents. As men they tell amusingly at respectable old notions and discredit even the motives of efficiency of people who seem to be engaged in more or less unselfish service; avoid of applause for themselves, they are reluctant to concede it to others; they display their independence of thought and by closing their minds to new ideas; and they grow older seek with increasing consistency to impose them upon the associates. Without knowing it, they become irritating barriers.

Insufficient veneration and consciousness of not being of much use always explain the man who does not grow up. There may have been a perfect in his life when he was an admired ornament of society when his cleverness was applauded, when his violent assertions and rash criticisms and absurd sentiment were listened to as the outpourings of an interesting and awakening mind and were valued perhaps for some facility in utterance, but the mind has not matured, perhaps because it never was forced to grapple with anything vital and the facility of utterance was a charm in youth has dwindled with years to peevish fluency in objection, censure and condemnation. The man, who at twenty-five is still a dabbler, with a faculty with raising a laugh by his trenchant disparagements of the achievements of grown men, is likely at sixty to be complaining of the cooking and the weather, the high prices and the policy of the administration, or living only for the purpose of expressing his discontent with the universe.

A man needs time in which to grow up, but if he does not fertilize time with work, he will be only the weed of a man.

New Dictatorship

The high sounding phrases in which President Wilson announces the tremendous fact that he takes the responsibility for disrupting the peace conference does not in any way better the actual conditions. The war was fought to protect the world from domination by the militarist autocracy of Germany. The defection of Italy from the democratic alliance renews the danger. Theories of self determination of formerly subject peoples are very well, if there was nothing else to consider. But if by protecting the claims of Italy the Jugo-Slavs, President Wilson creates a condition which renews the menace of militarist domination against the western world he will have rendered a vast disservice to humanity at large, including the Jugo-Slav themselves. The right of peoples and nations are preserved not by phrase-making, even the most expert, but by bayonets, and stout and loyal hearts behind them. The world's democratic alliance cannot afford to lose Italy with her millions of soldiers, even if the ideals expressed by President Wilson are not maintained to the letter. Of what use are ideals as to self-determination of people if by enforcing them they are against friends, enemies are so strengthened that they cannot be enforced against them?

President Wilson wastes a lot of words on the necessity of basis of justice for the league of nations. There is no need to argue that point. It is fundamental. The most important part of the question is: Shall solemn international agreements be avoidable, or may they be set aside at will by one of the parties to them under the plea of changed circumstances? If there is to be peace in the world, it must rest on the sanctity of contracts made for consideration delivered. The Italians entered into a contract with the Allies. They delivered the goods. They now ask the fulfillment of the agreement made with them. They are denied that by President Wilson. How is any league of nations to stand if that rejection of principle is to be at its foundation?

President Wilson is not more fortunate when he deals with material than when he deals with spiritual reasons. Fiume is the ocean port of the northern part of Jugo-Slavia which lies directly behind it. It is also the nearest port of Hungary; which lies behind Jugo-Slavia, and also of Czechoslovakia which is part behind Hungary. Obviously it is given to Jugo-Slavia, it cannot belong to Hungary or Czechoslovakia. They must use it on terms to be arranged with the Jugo-Slavs. These several peoples have more or less conflicting interests because their territory adjoin and their peoples are somewhat intermixed. So far as Hungary and Czechoslovakia are concerned they would be much better off in their use of the port if it were in hands of Italy with whom they can have no territorial quarrels than in those of the Jugo-Slavs with whom they are bound to have differences.

No doubt it would be very desirable from a Jugo-Slav point of view the Fiume should belong to that country. But the kingdom of Serbia and newly annexed provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina as well as the kingdom of Montenegro which form by far the greater part of Jugo-Slavia have no commercial interest in Fiume, finding their outlet to the sea by other ports. It is only the port of Jugo-Slavia that was released from Austrian tyranny by the valor and sacrifices of Italy that finds its outlet by way of Fiume. So that the Italian claim of Fiume does not end Jugo-Slavia from the sea, although of course the natural outlet for their northern provinces is Fiume.

President Wilson's statement of the case is practically the proclamation of his dictatorship of the Allied world. No doubt the United States has done great things for the allies and the cause of world liberty both in war, finance and supplies. But that is not a reason why President Wilson should set himself up as a world dictator and did the German Kaiser. The sufferings and sacrifices of the war were made in a common cause. They were urgently necessary in the cause or they would not have been made. Because the United States entering the war last and suffering least, finds its strength more fully conserved at the close than that of the other powers, is not an altruistic reason why President Wilson should ignore the agreements and sacrifices of the more war worn Allies and seek to impose his will on the peace conference without any consideration of the cause for which the common sacrifices were made. Recent figures show that Italy lost 1,32 of her total population killed. The United States lost 913. Translated this means that Italy lost 132 killed out of each 100,000 of her total population, while the United States lost 130 out of each 100,000 of total population.

$2,000 Grant Not Practicable Says General Griesbach

"If I can see the possibility whereby it can be done, I will do all in my power to support it, but if after careful consideration, I see that it cannot be done, then I won't support it." Such was Brigadier General Griesbach's reply to the most momentous question of the afternoon put before him at the largest meeting of returned soldiers ever conducted in Edmonton, which was held in the Empire Theatre on Sunday. The question was regarding the $2,000 cash bonus for returned men.

The building was packed to the doors and many were the veterans who could not be accommodated. Practically every returned man in Edmonton endeavored to attend yesterday's meeting. All were anxious to hear General Griesbach. He spoke and answered questions for about two hours and while he impressed them with his sincerity on matters dealt with, it was fully apparent that his attitude toward granting the cash bonus did not meet with the approval of those present.

Three proposals to indemnify returned men were placed before the meeting by General Griesbach.

The first was an extension of the land settlement proposition which would be so enlarged as to provide monies to men not wishing to carry on farming but who wished to enter business in some other phase of endeavor or wished capital with which to construct a home. The second was a scheme whereby the state would assume a life liability for the man who had served his country and the third was the $2,000 cash bonus. Either of the first two schemes, the general thought, were practicable, but he expressed doubts as to the third. In choice, General Griesbach urged that returned men use same and thoughtful consideration.

They Should Be Thankful

Canadian Bolsheviks mount public platforms to invite the world to witness the hardships and injustice they suffered at the hand of a "capitalistic" regime under which they are able to get three square meals a day and clothes to wear, and to bring up their families in a reasonable degree of comfort and an unreasonable degree of dissatisfaction with the country they live in.

Russian non-Bolsheviks do not mount platforms to tell the world of the horror they have witnessed and experienced under Trotsky's regime of murder and plunder. From the fragments of information which the Petrograd watchers have allowed to reach the outer world, if the whole story of their red regime were spread in print first man who mounted a platform in this country to proclaim his sympathies with the cabinet assassins would be hanged to the nearest lamp post.

Canadian Bolsheviks protest that the world does not know the whole truth as to what has been going on in Russia under the Bolshevik regime. That is a fact—for which the Canadian Bolsheviks should be eternally thankful. From the fragments of information which the Petrograd watchers have allowed to reach the outer world, if the whole story of their red regime were spread in print first man who mounted a platform in this country to proclaim his sympathies with the cabinet assassins would be hanged to the nearest lamp post.
